

Research Projects

Owing to the large numbers of clinical cases (of even rare diseases) treated at our department, we are specialized in applied research and treatment outcome analysis. Often small technical details lead to improved results. We strive constantly to optimize our surgical procedures and to use less invasive methods. The main focus here is on the use of intraoperative ultrasound and endoscopy and, of course, the improvement of microsurgical techniques.

Studies: Destiny-S (Stroke Study)