

Ongoing Courses

Microcourse for Medical Students: In this course students from the Ruhr University Bochum or the University of Duisburg-Essen can obtain training in microsurgical techniques by operating on models and anatomical specimens. This course is usually offered as a "laboratory course" at the end of the semester.

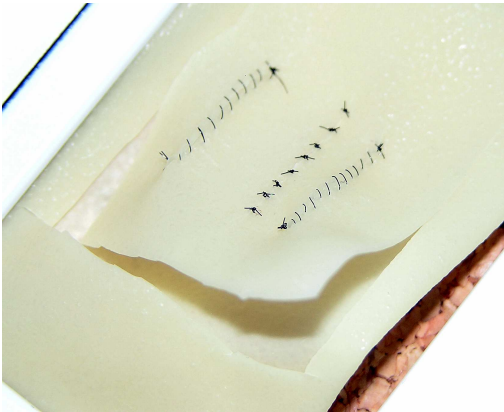

Fig.: Students practice suturing on latex foil.

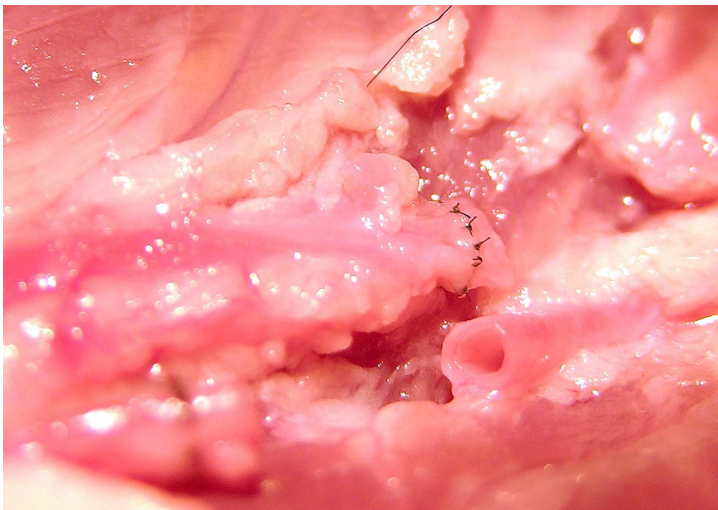

Fig.: Bovine coronary vessel with sutures.

International Aneurysm Course for Neurosurgeons: Once a year we hold an international training course for physicians with the title Course for Microsurgical Creation and Clipping of Aneurysms. This course is held at the Ruhr University Bochum. It is attended mainly by medical specialists from EU countries and focuses on practical surgical training.