

Students

The department provides medical students from the University of Duisburg-Essen an opportunity to receiving training during their practical year. There are also possibilities for students to do clinical electives in the department. The length of the practical training is based on the requirements of the individual student. It is also possible to spend a short period in the department as an observer.

Visiting physicians: The department regularly plays host to visiting physicians – especially from the Arab countries. Interested parties should contact the Hospital Director.

E-Mail: martin.scholz@sana.de