Sana Hospital Group: world-class healthcare

Sana Hospital Group is the largest privately owned hospital group in Germany. 56 world-class hospitals operate under the Sana umbrella, with more than 1.8 million patients yearly, 35,900 employees and annual sales of 2.9 billion euros.

Sana is owned by the 25 leading German private health insurance companies, including Allianz insurance Group, DKV and Signal iduna.

Sana Hospital Group operates leading facilities, among them university hospitals, tertiary care centers, and specialized hospitals to deliver a broad portfolio of top-tier medical care. In addition to our core business in acute medicine, the group owns other specialized facilities such as rehab centers, nursing homes and outpatient centers. Sana also is known for its operational services for more than 500 German hospitals, such as central supply, sterilization, catering, management and education. Sana works closely with authorities, investors, hospitals and high-end specialized physicians.

Sana as a Long-term Partner

As an experienced owner and operator of hospitals, Sana also acts as a long-term partner for government authorities and other clients. Sana is the source for knowledge transfer and development of medical services. Our professors, experts and sites take part in visiting professor programs, on- and offsite educational programs, and in more complex hospital projects. Sana is well known as an efficient manager of secondary hospital services like supply of medical products or medications. Sana hospitals provide emergency medical services for strategic partners abroad as well.

Additionally, our owners, operating worldwide as insurers, are on standby to answer questions about insurance systems, health office administration or claims management. Sana Hospital Group works for embassies and ministries in particular from Eastern Europe, the Middle East, Asia and North Africa, as well as for global insurance companies.

Highest Quality Medical Solutions

Sana Hospital Group is committed to delivering specialized medical care to patients and their relatives from all over the world. Sana accomplishes this with world-class medical care, high-volume Centers of Excellence, and efficiently led interdisciplinary departments with a total of more than 11,000 beds.

The Sana portfolio ranges from relatively simple issues such as heartburn or headaches, to highly complex problems like the treatment of esophageal carcinomas or endovascular coiling. In the process, we integrate outpatient services, acute medicine, and rehabilitation services into a continuity of quality care. At the core of Sana's strategy is a growing, experienced, world-class university educated staff, currently including some 5,000 doctors and 11,000 care personnel.

The Sana Group has some of the newest campus facilities available (among others in Offenbach, Munich, Dusseldorf); highly innovative medical technology (among others Linacs and daVinci robots); integration strategies (radiology network, rehab sites, prosthetics and assistive technology); and future-oriented investments. Overall, many Sana departments and personnel are not only highly reputable nationally and internationally, but also highly distinguished and certified, and as such can be counted among the leading providers in Germany and Europe.
